Fee and expense information as of the prospectus dated February 28, 2026. The Portfolio has entered into fee waiver and/or expense assumption arrangements with the advisor. In these cases, the advisor has contractually agreed, under certain circumstances, to waive certain fees and/or assume certain expenses of the class of the Portfolio. The fee waiver will remain in effect through February 28, 2027, and may only be terminated by the Portfolio's Board of Directors/Trustees prior to that date. The net expense ratio of the class reflects the gross expense ratio of such class of the Portfolio after taking into account any such fee waiver and/or expense assumption arrangements. The gross expense ratio reflects the Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses as disclosed in the prospectus. Please read the Portfolio's prospectus for details and more information.

Prices Contain Information About Expected Returns

Forward rates indicate expected returns across bonds of different duration and credit quality

Yield + Expected Capital Gain = Forward Rate

Expected Return Estimate

Differences in forward rates identify return differences among bonds, allowing Dimensional to pursue those with higher expected returns.

Municipal Fund Considerations

Expected Tax-Exempt Income	Federal

TAX-EXEMPT INCOME

Moderate emphasis on states with weak clientele effect¹

1. Clientele effect is the observed relation between municipal bond yields and state income tax regimes. Weak clientele effect suggests that municipal bond yields are higher on average on bonds issued by states with low or no state income tax benefit.

Performance data shown represents past performance and is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be higher or lower than the performance shown. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. To obtain the most current month-end performance data for Dimensional portfolios, visit dimensional.com.

Yield to worst is the estimated lowest bond yield that can be received (without the bond issuer defaulting) given available bond features such as calls prior to a bond's maturity date. Yield to worst for Dimensional portfolios is calculated by Dimensional. Yield to worst for indices is sourced from the respective index provider. Holdings are subject to change. National Municipal Bond ETF (DFNM)

Characteristics as of March 31, 2026

1. Credit rating agencies Moody's Investor Service, Fitch Ratings, and Standard & Poor's Corporation rate the credit quality of debt issues. For reporting purposes, we generally assign a composite rating based on stated ratings from Nationally Recognized Statistical Ratings Organizations ("NRSROs"). For example, if Moody's, Fitch, and S&P all provide ratings, we assign the median rating. In certain instances, such as Pre-Refunded Municipals and US Treasury and Agency securities, we will assign the internal Dimensional rating. The internal Dimensional rating can only be as high as the highest stated credit rating from an NRSRO.

Benchmark is the S&P Intermediate Term National AMT-Free Municipal Bond Index.

Disclosure regarding Dimensional ETFs:

ETFs trade like stocks, fluctuate in market value and may trade either at a premium or discount to their net asset value. ETF shares trade at market price and are not individually redeemable with the issuing fund, other than in large share amounts called creation units. ETFs are subject to risk similar to those of stocks, including those regarding short-selling and margin account maintenance. Brokerage commissions and expenses will reduce returns.

For ETFs, the market price return is calculated from closing prices as determined by the fund's listing exchange. If you trade your shares at another time, your return may differ.

Risks include loss of principal and fluctuating value. Investment value will fluctuate, and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than original cost.

Small and micro cap securities are subject to greater volatility than those in other asset categories.

International and emerging markets investing involves special risks, such as currency fluctuation and political instability. Investing in emerging markets may accentuate these risks.

Sector-specific investments focus on a specific segment of the market, which can increase investment risks.

Fixed income securities are subject to increased loss of principal during periods of rising interest rates. Fixed income investments are subject to various other risks, including changes in credit quality, liquidity, prepayments, call risk, and other factors. Municipal securities are subject to the risks of adverse economic and regulatory changes in their issuing states.

Real estate investment risks include changes in real estate values and property taxes, interest rates, cash flow of underlying real estate assets, supply and demand, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer.

Sustainability funds use environmental and social screens that may limit investment opportunities for the fund.

Commodities include increased risks, such as political, economic, and currency instability, and may not be appropriate for all investors. The portfolio may be more volatile than a diversified fund because the portfolio invests in a smaller number of issuers and commodity sectors.

The fund prospectuses contain more information about investment risks.
